Dance to Follow Hartnell-San Mateo Game Tonight

Lewis' Band Will Be Featured

Sid Lewis and his band will be featured tonight at the Men's club dance following the San Mateo-Hartnell football game. The dance will begin around 10:45 and last until 12:45.

The Men's club sponsors a dance yearly and this year it is under the chairmanship of John Alsop, club president. Larry Dimmick is in charge of the decorations and Bill Maison is to take care of refreshments.

Admission to the dance is couples, 75 cents and stags, 50 cents.

Ingols Appointed Homecoming Day General Chairman

Wayne Ingols, commissioner of social activities, was appointed general chairman of Homecoming Day at Tuesday's commission meeting.

According to President George Miljanich, Ingols will take charge of all Homecoming activities with the exception of the election of the queen and her attendants, which will be handled by Alpha Gamma Sigma.

Homecoming activities will begin with the traditional parade in the morning, and wind up with a dance that evening after the game with San Francisco City College. Proceeds from the dance as a rule go to the student union fund, Ingols said.

Miljanich reported on the exchange assembly at Monterey Peninsula College Monday, which he said was "very well received."

Wayne Ingols was named to replace Tom Ford as a delegate to the San Bernardino student government conference next week, as Ford will be unable to attend. Scheduled for discussion at the conference are: revamping of the rules governing conferences, student body

Margie Garcia

Marjorie Garcia Will Head W.A.A.

Margie Garcia was elected president of W.A.A. by a one-vote margin last week. Margie received 40 votes while her only opponent, Janet Christmas, polled 39.

Alice Page won over Irene Piini in a run-off election for the office of vice-president of Upsilon Gamma Chi. The vote was 44 to 34.

Other W.A.A. election returns were:

Vice-president: Florence Gin, 41; Mary Manteufel, 37.

Secretary-treasurer: Mary Lou Young, 31; Joan Farnsworth, 26; Catherine Russo, 24.

Reporter: Phyllis Williams, 73; Diane Lafranci (write-in), 1.

250 San Mateo Rooters Arrive Here Tonight

Approximately 250 rooters from San Mateo will arrive in Salinas tonight to participate in the evening's activities, according to Head Yell Leader Dewey Chambers.

Chambers, who received this information from Rally Commissioner Don Giusti in San Mateo, announced that the students will be met at the depot at 6:30 o'clock.

Frosh Take Field Day

Winning by five points, the freshmen triumphed over the sophomores in the annual Field Day battle Wednesday. A dinner and dance were held in the men's gymnasium following the outdoor activities and winners of Whiskerino and Ribbonero were announced.

Until the final event, the sophomores led by 20 points and the tug-of-war was to determine the final score. The freshman team had 24 men to the sophomores' 15, with the result that the first year men easily took the event.

Winners of the Ribbonero were Jeanette Crowell, most original bow; Elizabeth Keller, prettiest bow; and Virginia Viera, the largest bow. Ribbonero was judged by Mrs. Stuart Dufour, Mrs. William Criswell, and Miss Eleanor Perry.

Winners of the Whiskerino were Frank Hazel and Joe Matousek, who tied for heaviest beard; Ben Marcus, blackest beard; Floyd Daniel, strangest, or oddest beard; and Kenneth Smythe won the booby prize. Judges for Whiskerino were Mr. J. H. Murrin and Mrs. W. J. McCallum.

Following the Men's Club dinner, the audience was entertained with music and dancing. A six-piece orchestra made up of Hartnell students played several numbers. Hartnell Hawaiian students sang native songs and Henrietta McKeague did a hula.

Miss Sandra Lee, accompanied by the six-piece "combo," sang "That Old Feeling" and "So in Love." Mr. G. Darwin Peavy's tumblers, composed of four men and two women, pleased the audience with several spectacular tumbling stunts.

Point system by which the winner of Field Day was determined is as follows: Baseball counted 20 points; Wheelbarrow race, 20 points; football, 20 points; and tug-of-war, 25 points. Freshman won the baseball game and the tug-of-war, giving them a total of 45 points. Sophomores garnered 40 points, winning the wheelbarrow race and the football game.

In the softball game, freshmen edged out the second year squad, 34 to 2, while the sophomores took the football game, 6 to 2.

Production Will Run Three Nights

Tickets are now on sale in the main office and at Gadsby's Music Company for "Angel Street," college drama department's first production this year to be presented next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings.

According to Mr. Harold Ulrici, director, "Angel Street" is a real "suspense thriller," and will be remembered to movie-going audiences as "Gaslight," which starred Charles Boyer and Ingrid Bergman several years ago. The play is one of the most difficult the thespians have ever attempted, according to Ulrici, because of the subtleties of character interpretation necessary.

The cast, which goes into final rehearsals this week, is headed by Gloria Scroggs, as Mrs. Manningham, Don LoPresti as Mr. Manningham and Richard Cimino as Detective Rough.

Jolene Brogden and Juledra Lewis are double-cast in the role of Nancy, and Elizabeth the housekeeper will be portrayed by Marguerite Sander. The two policemen will be Dick Rohrbacker and Dean Stamatopoulos.

Members of the production staff are Dick Rohrbacker, stage manager; Dean Stamatopoulos, makeup; Don Feliz, programs and publicity; Phyllis Williams, prompter.

Stage settings have been designed and executed by Bob Kensinger and other art department students.

In connection with the production, the Art Club will exhibit water colors, oils, and third dimension.

Rally Today

San Mateo game rally will be held at 9 o'clock this morning in the men's gym. The band and majorettes will be on hand, and choral groups under the direction of Miss Vivian Stewart, will present several numbers.

CAMPUSOLOGY

The girl carrying the skull around the halls last Friday was not an imported African head hunter. She is Lucille Holme and she was taking the chunk of bone to anatomy class. For which purpose an empty skull is literally a head crammed full of useful facts. The skull was "scalped" or in other words the top was sawed off to get a better view of the interior. Where did she get it? Well, it may have been that of a scheming rival or an ex-boy friend. It might be that she found it while digging for fishing worms in the back yard or some other type of skullduggery. Who knows?

Laverne Seeman, the noisy gal with the cymbals, is the band's representative to the United Nations. In case the United Nations ever asks the band for a representative, that is. According to Mr. Lorell McCann, band director, she stops all fights and arguments between Richard Binsacca and Joe Rusconi, drum players.

Signs of the times indicate a down swing in our national economy is here—just like some of the big-shot economists say. One of the local indications is that several "railbirds" are trying all sorts of dodges to cut the cost of one of their luxuries—smoking.

A fella the other day was trying his hand at the old cowboy art of rolling-your-own. Quite successful he was, too.

Other men jam their half-smoked fags behind ears or back into the old pack. Ladies in the crowd are buying the long M.P.P.P. models (More Puffs Per Pack).

But the real extent to which people are being forced by this critical condition is shown by the fact that guys are quitting the habit!

Met one the other day who wanted to borrow a cigarette. Said he had already carried out the first part of his plan. He'd buying 'em!

"It's incorrect to speak of the Flying Club as the 'fl yboys,'" says Frank Armbruster, president, "because there's a girl in the club now." Her name is Miss Gail Shirley.

The new look for men is here! At least the men look new after getting shed of the chin ticklers.

This week's hero is Richard Brown who was injured while doing his duty as a bus driver. He drives one of the elementary school buses and the incident occurred as he was returning from the Prunedale district.

He had parked his bus at the side of the road and was going to walk to the center of the road to stop traffic. As he walked around the front of the bus, he was bounced off the fender of a car driven by a woman who evidently had not seen the parked bus.

A checkup at the Salinas Valley Hospital revealed that Brown suffered a broken arm.

Artists Feature Exhibit on Play

Largest art exhibit shown for a long time will be featured October 27, 28, and 29 during the production of "Angel Street." The exhibit will open before play time, and remain open until at least a half hour after the play.

Approximately 24 students are participating in the event which will feature oil paintings, water colors, and designs.

Original display units are being designed and constructed by the art classes to convert the art room into an art gallery. The large display units are being designed by Bob Kensinger, Clo Castro, and Laura Lee Abeloe.

"We have a fine group of talented art students participating in this exhibition, which promises to be very good," states Mr. Leon Amyx, head of the department.

Water colors and oil paintings are being done by Alice Spagopoulos, Bob Kensinger, and Clo Castro.

Featured in the water color section are Wayne Ingols, Kay Kent, Rosemary Bello, Pat Eldridge, Ted Maddock, Charles Strunk, Roland Percival, Grover Fong, and Evelyn Buckingham.

Designs are being done by Gloria Amaya, Laura Lee Abeloe, Wilma Brusa, Gayle Caskey, Clo Castro, Grover Fong, Dee Fosselman, Pat Hossack, JoAnn Hossack, Bob Kensinger, Carolyn McQuillan, Darrell Millsap, Ted Maddock, Louis Marques, Dean Stamatopoulos, Kenneth Smythe, and Mary Ann Siliman.

Hartnell Mascot Ready Tonight

"Tabby the Cat," Hartnell's new game mascot will make his first appearance at the game with San Mateo at the high school stadium tonight.

"Tabby's" identity will be "top secret" to prevent his being kidnapped by other colleges. He will come on the field with the football team and his duties will be to pull all kinds of stunts, ridicule the enemy team and "horse around" in general. "Tabby" will be something similar to the University of California's "Oskie" the bear.

People who put in a lot of hard work on "Tabby" are Dean Stamatopoulos, who made the papier mache head, and Wayne Ingols and James Akimo who helped with the costume.

McCann Heads NCJC Symphony

New venture for the Northern California Junior College Association is the organization and presentation of an All-Northern California junior college symphony orchestra of approximately 75 members at the fall meeting of the NCJCA on the Berkeley campus of University of California, December 3.

Mr. Lorell McCann, in charge of instrumental music here, has been appointed leader and co-ordinator for the affair. Letters have gone out to all the colleges in the association asking for recommendations of top performers for the symphony orchestra. The response has been fine, and already Mr. McCann has a 90-piece orchestra on paper.

Each participating school is to furnish its own music for the program and hold its own rehearsals until there is a joint rehearsal of the group on the morning of December 3. After a two and a half hour practice session and lunch at the campus cafeteria, the members of the symphony will go over to the auditorium of the International House and give an hour and a half program.

Mr. Henry Cassady, president of the association, says that a precedent has been set which offers a stimulating challenge to all the musicians of the Northern California junior colleges.

Westminster Club To Hold Picnic

A cordial invitation to attend a hot dog feed has been advanced by the Westminster club to all Hartnell college Protestant students. The event will be held at nearby Central park at noon on October 25.

There will be no charge to students who obtain free tickets now available, but those who attend are requested to bring their own soft drinks. Tickets may be obtained from Allen Olsen, Adair Chattaway, Laura Lee Abeloe, Marilyn Hendrix, and club faculty advisor, Miss Faith Fraser.

During the semester, the non-denominational Protestant group plans to have Methodist, Baptist, and Presbyterian students each present a program. The membership is not restricted to these groups, however, and all Protestant students are welcome to join the club.

Canterbury Club Plans Active Year

The constitution of the Canterbury Club was read and approved by the club members at a meeting held last Sunday night. The meeting was held following a joint dinner with Young People's Fellowship of the Episcopal Church.

Those present at the meeting also made plans to hold a dinner on the first Sunday of each month. Dues were set at 50 cents monthly, for those who attend the dinners, and 25 cents for members who do not.

All students who wish to take part in this club's activities are invited to attend the meetings. Faculty advisors for the group are Dr. B. L. Borough and Mr. Harold Ulrici.

With Field Day written into the books, Hartnell College students will be looking forward to the Homecoming Day festivities on November 11. Homecoming Day is traditionally one of the biggest social affairs of the season; complete with a parade, queen, and trophy for the outstanding football player in the Armistice Day clash with San Francisco.

Last year a great deal of interest was shown in the balloting for queen and the entries of floats in the parade downtown. HONEY HARRIS was elected to reign over the proceedings. Hartnell seems well stocked with another collection of beauties to vie for the crown this fall. Hartnell A. and M. earned top honors in the parade as their float was awarded first place.

ADA KASJE and TERESA BERTOLLI must have invented a new system in shorthand. It might be called the "wrong way method." The other day they set a new record. It took them three hours to do one page of work.

JACQUIE GAUDIN has informed us she will go into mourning if the California Bears lose a football game this year. So if you see a strange figure with a veil over her countenance in the near future, don't feel sorry for her.

As per usual, the Salinas sorority gals have started their drive for initiates. Initiations may not be rigorous in some cases but wait until these pledges go into action around the campus. Already four of the victims, BETTY PARKS, BETTY MCCOY, ROBIN LOWRY, and NORMA BROWN have been spied without makeup. So if several pasty-faced palefaces appear before you, don't blame it on lack of sleep. Gads, what miracles cosmetics will do.

Those two men with the "pleasing personalities," BUNKY MILLSAP and BOB ADENT, turned heroes the other day. Seems Monterey retaliated to the sign painting episode by hoisting a flag on the Hartnell flagpole and dabbing some paint on the Panther. Just to make things difficult, they severed the ropes used to manipulate the flag. But "our heroes," Millsap and Adent, showed their monkey-like qualities and climbed the slim pole to haul down the disgraceful emblem. Incidentally the quotes used in this story were supplied by Millsap and Adent.

Publish Book On Life of Hartnell

"The Lives of William Hartnell," a biography of W. E. P. Hartnell, will be published by the Stanford Press in November. The announcement of the publication of the book, by Susanna Bryant Dakon, was made by the concern in its publication bulletin recently.

The book will be of special interest to those connected with Hartnell college. Dr. Luella Hall, general college dean, announced she has reserved a copy of the book to be placed in the Californiana section of the library.

Exchange Show Set for Monday

Group from Monterey Peninsula College will entertain students Monday morning at an exchange assembly in the men's gym.

The assembly, scheduled for 10 o'clock, is the second in a series of exchange functions between the two schools. Last Monday, the band, President John B. Lemos, George Miljanich, and two drama students, Richard Cimino and Gloria Scroggs, visited the Monterey campus to entertain students.

Mr. Cimino and Miss Scroggs presented excerpts from the drama department's forthcoming production, "Angel Street."

All students are expected to attend this assembly, according to President Lemos, who said he hoped the Monterey group would be well received by the Hartnell student body.

Hartnell Receives Rock Collection

Hartnell College received as a gift from Mrs. C. A. Ryan a rock and mineral collection which fills 10 large boxes and contains well over a thousand specimens.

For a period of more than 30 years, the material was collected by Mr. C. A. Ryan, who worked as an artist and mining engineer and did a great deal of traveling.

Mrs. Ryan thought the college could make good use of the collection and she very kindly offered it to us, according to Mr. John B. Lemos, college president.

For several years the Ryan collection has been stored in the Monterey Museum, which is located at the corner of Polk and Alvarado streets, Monterey.

Since the collection fills 10 large boxes, it is going to take a considerable amount of time to sort and classify the various items. It is hoped that it will be ready for exhibit sometime this spring, Mr. Lemos said.

Suitable display cases will be obtained and will probably be located in or near the Silliman library. The collection will be open to student and public inspection.

The various specimens are to be sorted and labeled by the geology department for use by the science classes such as nature study and geology.

Mr. Richard Carlisle, geology instructor, is pleased by Mrs. Ryan's generosity and is certain that he can put the collection to good use in geology classes.

Mrs. Ryan lives at 140 Central Avenue, Salinas, and made her gift offer to the college last week. The rocks and minerals were carried to Hartnell last Monday.

Women Enter Hockey Meet

Eleven Hartnell girls entered competition with other college hockey teams at the hockey coaching and playing session at Stanford University Sunday.

Girls also received coaching from some of the outstanding women hockey coaches on the west coast.

The several colleges represented were: C.O.P., Chico, U.C., Mills, S.F. State, San Jose, Santa Rosa, Napa, and Hartnell.

The following girls attended with Miss June Handley: Betty Wyatt, Catherine Russo, Patricia Nagle, Marjorie Garcia, Barbara Johnson, Bonnie Hearn, Mary Manteufel, Nancy Ferris, Maryellen Phillips, Delores Piffero, and Mary Lou Young.

Annual Ski Club Hop After Menlo Game

Skeletons will be stalking among cornstalks and pumpkins at the Ski Club dance, following the Menlo game. This, for the uninformed, will be next Friday night, October 28.

Marilyn Hendrix, general chairman for the affair, has revealed some of the plans for the dance. Some of the choicer bits:

There will be a band—a five-piece affair. From various reliable sources it is reported decorations are really on the Halloween beam.

Committee chairmen are Barbara Ching, refreshments; Naida Fisher, music; Frances Silacci, cleanup; Dee Fosselman, publicity; and Gloria Scroggs, decorations.

A booth will be set up at the dance where memberships into the club will be taken. Profit from the dance will go into a fund for future ski trips to be taken by the student members.

Tumblers Plan Future Programs

G. Darwin Peavy's tumbling class is shaping up routines and formations for future exhibitions. Augmented by several new members this year, the group is working around a nucleus of last year's performers.

These include Margeurite Sander, Evelyn Dutra, Ted Dennis and Mervyn Ferreira. The tumblers made their initial appearance at the Men's club dinner last Wednesday night.

KDON to Air College Life Show

Radio drama class, under the direction of Mr. Harold Ulrici, is planning to air two programs next week.

First broadcast of "College Is the Life," a half hour show, is tentatively scheduled for October 28 over KDON. Those handling various phases of the show are Richard Cimino, announcer; Ralph Rowland, human interest; Pat Pollock and Alice Page, social activities; Phil Trine and Bill Walker, sports; Gardner Pond, interviews; Frances Johnston and Gloria Scroggs, west coast universities. Dick Rohrbaker is student director of the show, which is entirely student written.

Members of the class are also working on a half-hour dramatic script, "David Gafrick," which will be probably given next week over station KSBW.

Panthers Play Poor Game; Lose to Stockton, 13-6

Playing their worst game of the season, Hartnell's Panthers gave the Stockton College Mustangs their first win of the season. The halftime score was tied with no score for either team, but it was apparent that the Panthers weren't playing winning football. The final score was 13 to 6.

Hartnell's attack floundered during the entire game. At times the Panthers looked as though they might pull the game out of the fire, but on each occasion the drive failed to materialize. In the second half Ken Dias took Bob Swan's 20-yard pass and scooted about 40 more yards to the Mustang 10-yard line. However, an official who was 30 yards away at the time called Ken out of bounds on the Stockton 35-yard line. At no point in his run was Ken closer than one yard to the sideline.

Later in the game, Bill Whited took another Swan pass on the 3 and was tackled on the spot. However, the Panthers had an ineligible receiver downfield on the play. The play was nullified and the Panthers were assessed 15 yards from the original line of scrimmage.

Jim Miyasato scored for Hartnell from 40 yards out in the fourth period.

Miyasato's run tied the score, but the conversion attempt failed and the Panthers did not go ahead. The Mustangs brought the ensuing kickoff deep into Panther territory and scored four plays later to win.

Panthers Last!

Hartnell is in the Northern California Junior College Conference. This conference consists of two divisions, northern and southern. In the northern division are Santa Rosa, Vallejo, Sacramento, Marin, Yuba, Placer, and Napa.

In the southern division are Hartnell, San Mateo, San Francisco, Menlo, Modesto, Stockton, and Monterey.

In the south the league standing is:

San Francisco	1	0	1
Menlo	1	1	0
Modesto	1	1	0
Stockton	1	1	0

San Mateo Here Tonight; Bulldogs Lead League

Panther Workouts Rough All Week; Dysle to Captain Team

Tonight Salinas fans will be able to watch the Hartnell Panthers for the second time this year. This is to be their fifth game of the season. The Panthers, with a record of two wins and two losses, are to meet San Mateo at 8 p.m. in the S.U.H.S. stadium.

Last year Hartnell walked over the Bulldogs, 31-12. It was not one of those passing sprees for which the Panthers were famous. Jim Echeveria, the hard-running fullback, ran wild in that game, as did Mike Hodar and Doyle Burnett.

San Mateo opened their season successfully against San Francisco State. San Mateo pushed over three touchdowns while allowing their opponents only two. Their second game was dropped to the strong Cal Frosh team, 14-0. Their third game was against luckless Stockton, whom they humbled, 28-0. This Stockton team beat Hartnell last week, 13-6. But it must be remembered that some six injured men had returned to the lineup, and it was homecoming for the Stockton boys when they met the Panthers. Last Saturday the San Mateo boys put up a good showing against a highly favored Glendale team.

All of this week the Panthers have been given strenuous exercises and hard scrimmaging to be in good shape for tonight's game. It was lack of good conditioning that left the team with very little steam last week. Coach Ab Wilson and Jess Regli do not intend to allow the boys to be in such poor shape again.

After four games, some of the Panther plays are being modified, while Coach Wilson has given the team some new running plays and pass formations.

Last week's loss brought the Panthers down to earth, and they are entering tonight's game with their eyes wide open and a grim determination to bring home the bacon. It is very possible that the fans will see a repetition of the type of ball that Hartnell played against Bakersfield. The people that saw that game observed a lesson being given the Renegades in the art of perfect blocking and tackling.

Game captain for the coming encounter will be Ed Dysle. Ed has been a bulwark in the center of the line all year. Last week against Stockton he was one of the first men across the line of scrimmage on every play.

Sports Comments

By PHIL TRINE

Hartnell College led off with their wrong foot last Friday night, losing to thrice-beaten Stockton Junior College in their initial conference test. Well-informed crystal gazers had placed the Panthers as two touchdown favorites but the Mustangs paid no heed. Early season results point to a rather topsy-turvy race in the N.C.J.C. conference this year.

While Hartnell was losing their opener, the defending conference champions, the San Francisco Rams, were held to a 13-13 deadlock by the Monterey College Lobos. The Lobos, snubbed by the experts in preseason ratings, appear tired of playing dead dog. San Mateo, another "dark horse," has slipped into first place ahead of the Rams. The Bulldogs whipped Stockton in their league opener, 28-0.

Menlo, after losing a tough 24-14 battle with San Francisco, reassembled their forces and trampled the Modesto College Pirates, 19-2, last week. Modesto had previously edged the Monterey Lobos, 6-0, in their curtain raiser.

Although the season is a little young yet, Ed Dysle, Hartnell College guard, appears to be just about a unanimous selection for all-conference honors. Dysle has been plagued with minor ailments this season, but despite this handicap has served more than his share of time at his guard post. Incidentally the work and improvement of Bob Burton, defensive line backer for the Panthers, labels him as another candidate for an all-league berth. Burton and Dysle were responsible for about half the locals' tackles in the Stockton tilt.

Wellington Smith, versatile Negro halfback, who performed for the Panthers several years ago, may be in the Monterey College lineup when they meet Hartnell in the season grid finale. Smith tried to re-enter here, but Monterey's ruling prohibiting students residing in the Monterey district to enter Hartnell, forced him to enroll at the peninsula campus. Another former Panther star, Al Garnero, will also be facing his old teammates when the Lobos and Panthers tangle.
